Now I want to run a query something like $query="SELECT a.Title, b.Subtitle, a.Id, a.Type, a.StartTime, b.Length FROM tbl_a a LEFT JOIN tbl_b b ON a.type=b.type WHERE a.Id=(SELECT MAX(id) FROM tbl_a) AND b.type=0"; It shows an error "You have an error in your SQL syntax; check the manual that corresponds to your MySQL server version for the right syntax to use near 'a.Id=(SELECT MAX(id) FROM tbl_a) AND b.type=0' at line 1" Is it possible to use alias in such query or change it in mysql itself? A: Just use a sub-select: SELECT a.Title, b.Subtitle, a.Id, a.Type, a.StartTime, b.Length FROM (SELECT id, MAX(id) AS MaxId FROM tbl_a) a LEFT JOIN tbl_b b ON a.Id = b.Id AND b.type = 0 Your query as presented there would not be valid SQL. Your last condition is your where clause. This also solves your first problem by moving the join and selecting max() to the from clause, but as mentioned in the comments you need to use a sub-select in order to have a one to one relation between tbl_a and tbl_b.
